

Transportation Policy

1. Paragraph 4b states that the responsibility for the Central Processing Branch are in accordance with authority delegated to that Branch by the Chief of Logistics. Inasmuch as the Central Processing Branch is a subordinate element of the Office of Personnel, we consider that this statement should describe the responsibilities of the Assistant Director for Personnel.

2. Section 4a states that the Chief of Logistics is responsible for arranging for the transportation of "personnel and their dependents and for the transportation of things. . ."; the Office of Personnel is assigned responsibility for the procurement of transportation for agency personnel.

3. Section 4b. Under the original concept of the Central Processing Service, that Branch was to be responsible for arranging for transportation of personnel, while the Transportation Division of the Logistics Office was responsible for the procurement of such transportation. It is recommended that this distinction be made clear in the proposed regulation.

4. We assume that specific regulations on the subject of transportation of personnel will stipulate that Joint Travel Regulations apply to the travel of Detailed Military Personnel and to their dependents and household goods.
